

Crrow777 Radio Podcast Transcript Recorded 2/26/25

Episode 616 full show transcript

616 – The Reality of Now without Pulling Punches - 2/26/25

No portion of this document may be uploaded or posted to social media or online public platforms in any way to include partial contents. The information contained here is not intended to contribute to data mining, tracking, the education of artificial intelligence (AI) or censorship so prevalent on social media and other online public platforms. Please respect the intended use of this content.

>>Crow: Alright, Man. Welcome to Ccrow777 Radio. This is Episode 616. Jason Lindgren and Deborah Tavares joins us for the first time. We've got a lot of things to cover here, a lot of them are very sensitive subjects. We'll do the best we can. Welcome, Jason.

>>Jason: And a chilly, good afternoon.

>>Crow: Indeed. It's been very, very cold and I'm told we have another arctic blast coming, but let's set that aside. Welcome to the show, Deborah, and I'm going to let you intro yourself.

>>Deborah: Well, thank you very much, Crow and Jason, for having me on the show today. Again, my name is Deborah Tavares. I do run three websites. My primary website is StopTheCrime.net. And I would urge everyone to go to my "All Videos" and start taking a look at the various posts that we have recently done. And many that we have posted over the years of investigative on-site crime scene investigations that we personally have gone out onto and investigated. Also I run primarywater.org. The takeaway there is we're not running out of water. Water is renewable, and everyone must learn and relearn that water does not come from rain and snow melt. And rain and snowmelt is the evaporation from primary water that's created below the mantle. And I also then run Toxic Sky.org. I would urge everyone to spend a little bit of time on ToxicSky.org. Certainly watch the movie, Unconditional Grey. It was the final movie that Michael Murphy did. He did two prior movies. What in the world are they spraying, and Why in the world are they spraying?" And he was murdered. This final movie is a tribute to him. He created this movie and it is extremely important and we'll relate to that movie with fires in Lahaina and the poisoning of the water supply in Lahaina as well. So, we could get started with discussing certainly the LA fires and the fires that I've experienced. I live here one hour north of the Golden Gate Bridge in Northern California. I was born and raised in Southern California and I've experienced many, many, many fires. Certainly the fires that roared through Northern California in 2014 and burned over 5,000 homes and then the Paradise Fire and subsequent fires, too many to count anymore. We have noticed specific fire-starting atmospheric conditions with all the fires, including the fires down in the Los Angeles County Area, the Pacific Palisades, Alta Dena and Malibu. The one thing about that location in Southern California. I was born in Santa Monica. I used to of course go to the Pacific Palisades and I lived in Malibu in Big Rock. And Big Rock is mentioned many times in the most recent disclosures and the fire activity that occurred in these most recent fires and first I think it's most important that everyone understand how to observe when an attack is imminent. You heard me. We can observe when attacks upon us are imminent and this is incredibly important for all of us to become aware of. Because we certainly started getting this in Northern California. Thirst, what we know, is that we are in dough conditions or it's extremely dry. Doesn't have to be dry for long, but generally you'll hear on the news, it's very dry, the material, the brush, etc. is dry. Then it will become hot and we'll start seeing three to five days before ignition... or I should say before lasers and microwaves. We will see heavy, heavy, aerosol atmospheric injections, aka chemtrailing. Very important to notice that. You have to start looking up to understand what is happening in the atmosphere. Because when you start observing, you can start feeling the change that is occurring. Then of course the humidity stops considerably. It's important what happens with the humidity because it must be low . An example of the humidity in the LA fires, it was averaging about 11%. That's extremely, extremely low. The use of the weapon systems must be dry conditions, AKA the reason for extremely low humidity. We have noticed anything below 50% humidity is highly combustible. In fact, after our fires here in Northern California called the Tubbs Fire, again in 2017... because of the trauma of many people losing everything which is only a 15 minute warning and a stand down of all police and fire. The fact that we had no water on the hill top in Fountain Grove because the two huge water tanks that were provided by the builders of that mountain, it would provide water, fire water had been emptied prior to the attack due to retrofitting. Earthquake retrofitting. Those two tanks were emptied. Now, there's a reason why the reservoir in the Palisades was emptied. There was a reason why there was no water available in Paradise or certainly in Lahaina as well. Because these are microwave fires and had we seen the use of water on these fires, we would have seen that these fires don't go out easily. And we're witnessing a continuous burn right now in Monterey on Moss Landing of one of the world's largest lithium ion battery plants, this is on fire. I think that they've managed, it's just burned itself out right now, but people are very, very sick. I also recounted a ship that was carrying a load of electric vehicles. They can cause a thermal runaway and the ship was along the Azores off the coast of Portugal and the ship was allowed to burn. Again, you can't put these fires out. It took fifteen days before the ship sunk. They let it sink. So, when we think about the fires that we've all been watching in Los Angeles County, we need to understand this is an attack. This is an attack. Now, for many of you who haven't advanced to that knowledge, then much of what you will hear in the program today will be well beyond your mind controlled ability to understand. Sad to say. But we are seriously in grave danger everywhere, world-wide. It's not just a California circumstance, not just North Carolina or the effects of Hurricane Helene or the effects of all of the tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes and the atmospheric river dumps we're experiencing now with the flooding. This is all created. They call it climate change. Sadly, many people do believe that it is natural and we're being pummeled with the word natural fires. Nothing about these fires are natural and I've discussed before but I'll bring it forward here on this disclosure today about some of the patents that are involved in the fires and I think it's extremely important to understand that we have many patents, but this is an example of just one for the lasers. And this is patent number US10337841B and 2. Now these are on my website StopTheCrime.net under the resource document tab. So, you can always go there and find it. But in short, the abstract tells us that they use directed energy weapons, these are devices that direct a beam of high energy content towards a target, or incapacitating or destroying the target. The high frequency beam being a laser beam causes structural damage to the target. Now, these beams can be used on people as well. Different calibrations of the beams depends on the damage that they intend on causing. Also for the winds, this is extremely important, I did not know this years ago when I was living in Malibu as a girl, only 11 years of age. When the Santa Ana winds blew at that time and or the Devil Winds as they called them, I never knew that these were electronic microbursts and this is also a patent. It's a microburst wind and they're electromagnetic radio weapons and it's created and we saw this in the fires in Los Angeles. We saw tornado-like high winds and gusts between eighty and a hundred miles an hour. And I think it's very important for people to understand this is all artificially spawned and precision targeted microbursts war tech created by scalar electromagnetic weapon systems mounted on cell towers everywhere.

>>Crow: So, I don't want to interrupt here and I'm sorry for interrupting, but Jason has a couple questions as do I, so I'm just going to try to jump in where we can, okay? And also, everybody listening, we have to do this on a phone which is why the audio is... actually it's pretty good considering, but Jason, you had a couple questions?

>>Jason: Well, when you were talking about the water not being available for the fires, do you think that Governor Newsome and some of the other politicians there were aware that that's what was going to happen? Or do you think that things were done behind their back and they were caught off guard?

>>Deborah: I can't address that. Because I don't know what they were thinking. I don't know what they knew or what they didn't know. We can't know that. I can say that the Department of Water and Power be commissioned that Santa Ynez reservoir, due to the tear in the cover that needed to be repaired. The cover was over the reservoir and to protect that reservoir from bird droppings... not other reservoirs don't have covers. It's very odd that that had a cover. And then emptied a year prior because of a tear in that cover. What I can tell you are some other oddities about reservoirs and this is just an aside, but if you look online, you'll find that they're spending millions and millions of dollars on putting black balls, floating balls that abut one another, cover the tops of the reservoir to reduce evaporation. Because they've got an entire disinfo around where water comes from. So, do I think he knew? Well, again, I can't say. But I know that others know and I know that the Water Barons are strong in Southern California. That's why the movie Chinatown... and this is Chinatown the sequel with what we saw with the fires. It's a massive water grab and an illusion of where water comes from.

>>Crow: People should watch Chinatown to know what Deborah's talking about. And by the way, Deborah, there's just been recently a big to-do about black plastics being very toxic, telling people not to use the black plastic silverware. I wonder if that relates to those balls.

>>Deborah: Well, I can't say that. What I do know is that all applications for our safety are mostly deadly and I think we can all potentially agree with that and I wanted to give the patent number for the microburst of the winds. And I hope everyone heard that cell phone towers are attributed to creating these winds. It's all covert homeland military intelligence and it's a coup on social cleansing and more. And the high winds literally shake buildings, we saw the trees being blown over. But the patent for that is US Patent 7629918. I also have that posted on StopTheCrime.net. I wanted to move into the trees quickly because there's been much discussion around the trees still being okay after some of the fires because many of the fires, the trees still appear to be green. But all plant material worldwide is very damaged. When you go to ToxicSky.org, you will hear what Rosalind Peterson and an arborist from the State of California investigated and found about all of the degrading of plant material. In fact, the soil minimally, six inches deep is poisonous. It's so thick with heavy metals that the plant material can't uptake water. Albeit rainwater is poisonous and toxic, no one should be considering rainwater catchment. In fact, when you go to ToxicSky.org and you listen to the movie, Unconventional Grey, you will learn that Lahaina was poisoned years before it was hit with the weapon systems that burned Lahaina to the ground by the use of delivering to the indigenous Hawaiian people, rainwater catchment, and you will see Michael Murphey holding a test up of the test of the water supply and the unsurvivable levels of aluminum that were tested. So, I would urge you to all understand the high toxicity of any raw water. When I mean raw water I mean from rivers, creeks, ponds, any surface water. I have discussed over the years documents that let us know that all the surface water, all worldwide – poisonous. Now more so because of the heavy use of microwaves in the atmosphere which pulls out much of the oxygen from the water supply which is why we're getting so many molds, mildews and funguses and why the fish are dying. Even though they are telling us that they are trying to save the fish by taking out dams right now, they just recently took three dams out on the California/Oregon border and people who have homes there are now having to truck in water because they're eliminating the previously established delivery system of the water and we're all set up on a water delivery system that is a weapon. The weapon. And I will explain that in a moment. But I wanted to get back to the fires. It's very, very important that everyone understand that the blue lasers that are used reflect off of houses or vehicles or items that are blue and or white. The blue lasers that are used to destroy our cities during fires reflects off of blue or white. I have many, many photographs of many fires where blue and white buildings, cars, other vehicles and items including umbrellas, etc., were not burned.

>>Jason: Can you tell us anything more about the blue lasers, like the frequencies, the wavelengths of them, what they are, that kind of thing?

>>Deborah: Well, I gave you the patents, so people can refer to that. I want to give a broad brush of what we face and I'm not going to go into the heat levels. Other people do. Right now I think it's more important for people to understand we're all facing diabolical circumstances that are being created called climate change. And of course we're all being targeted. So, I don't want to wrap people up in numbers or heat temperatures, it's not necessary because we see with our own eyes what is happening. Cities are being burned down. Locations are being flooded out. And we're being hurricane, tornado'd, every event that you can imagine is occurring. We're seeing the coastlines being decimated. They're calling that sea level rise. It is not sea level rise. So, the larger picture I think is important for people to understand, I know it took me many documents and many years to arrive at the point where I can say this with fully backed documentation. So, I want everybody to realize that originally with my husband, we were land developers in Southern California. I started to watch the UN agendas creeping in, albeit I do not know they were UN agendas, but I was watching high interest rates beyond literally being able to sell product, homes, etc., at times in Southern California where many builders that we knew were having great difficulty and also, off site requirements prior to building, changing what we could build on properties, it didn't make sense, it was getting more difficult. There wasn't time, we could draw plans, go to the various city agencies, the fire, the building, the design review board and literally get a building permit in a few weeks. And then it became many months and it just has become more and more since then and since I'm talking about this right now, I know during the LA fires many people were hearing about the new plans for the buildout of the Pacific Palisades in that area. They were coming in to replace all those houses and that's why they were burning those houses down and they were referring to this as fifteen minute cities. These are slaughter cities. These are cities that are un-survivable with the amount of wireless that will be already built into these cities. Now, I will tell you this. There will be building permits issued for rebuilds in the burned areas in Southern California as there have been in Paradise, California that was nearly eighty percent plus burned down. And certainly here in Sonoma County. I will say that the rebuilds are more sparse. There are many lots that were never built on. We're going to see many unbuildable, sad circumstances in many of the areas now in Southern California because people of course are under insured, certainly. They're not going to be able to reach to the increased building requirements for fire hardening which has changed since buildings were built a number of years back. And more importantly, many folks are going to have to try to get construction financing for rebuilds which they likely will have great difficulty in getting construction financing because they will not be able to get insurance. So, without insurance, people can't get mortgages. And we're watching this unfold now. And I will tell you what the fed chair said just about a week ago, I would say we're talking today being January 19th, so I would say the first week or so of January, the fed chair said this when we normally hear him talk about interest rates, he discussed and answered a question. And a question was, what's going to happen with insurance and mortgages and the fed chair said that it will be very difficult to get insurance, therefore mortgages will become less available for the general populations and that as a consequence of that, there will be more local banks merged, we've already been seeing the loss of local banks and we will see the reduction of ATMs because the banking system is ready to change into a digital system and all the fires and the burndowns and the lack of insurance, it's all part of the plan to move us out of individual home ownership into moving into these three and five story buildings that most of you are seeing being built in your areas now. Well, we went to the planning and building department here in Santa Rosa, California about a year and a half ago because I kept hearing on the news, as you all are hearing as well, that there's not enough housing. There's not enough housing. There's not enough housing. And yet, talking about all of these projects that I saw being built everywhere along the corridor within the city growth boundaries. So I went, my husband went to the planning and engineering department, find out how many buildouts there have been in new construction, with apartments only. I'm not talking about fire rebuilds. I asked them, and there are thousands and thousands which are not part of the number that they discuss in not having enough housing. But I will tell you, what we did and all of you that have considered doing this as well, many and most of the buildings, three stories and five stories, the difference of course between three stories and five stories is that in five stories you have to have elevators. In three stories, at least in California, you do not have to have elevators. But everything is wireless, and everything is electric. There is no gas anything. So, we went into one of these buildings, they're all for lease. Nothing to buy. All for lease. Very expensive. I would say a unit under a thousand square feet with a two bedroom two bath is about three thousand dollars a month and you get one car parking. Many areas there really is no car parking because they're eliminating cars in the central core of our cities now, as you know. So, we went into these buildings and it was about a 90-unit apartment for lease building and I was quite stunned at how quickly this building leased out, having been involved in sales and lease outs for years, myself personally, I've never seen vacancy rates increase as they have. Or I should say the lack of vacancy rates declined and these buildings fill up. I asked and I was rather surprised that I was told who are the majority of people? What employment do these people have? And I was told they were government. So, as all of you watch what's going on around you, the need to understand what's going on in these city governments in your backyard, your county board of supervisors, your city councils, all the government agencies are conspiring with UN agenda policies, many of us know them to be sustainable development goals, there's nothing sustainable about reducing. All resources that we require to live, these are unsustainable goals and all of your cities have taken grants and they have fomented downtown parking arrangements that are different than we've ever had before. Some of those things are interesting. The roads are narrower, they're becoming more dangerous with the convergence of bikes and roads. I won't go into all of that. But I will just say we are experiencing a diabolical change and a massive intention to reduce the population. I did a video movie some years ago where I was... I met up with Ted Turner at a wine event here in Northern California and I had a friend with me who was using his cell phone to take pictures and I think you can find that still out there. It's called Deborah Tavares and Ted Turner; think it's also called Deborah Tavares and Ted Malthusian Turner. It was discussed back then that nine out of ten people would die. And I remember being there at that discussion in shock. Absolute shock.

>>Jason: Did Ted Turner seem like a complete psychopath when you met him?

>>Deborah: No. No. It was very interesting and I don't want to spend time on the backstory on that, but I did talk with him prior to his discussion. I lived on the sea, on a yacht, and of course he was a racer and of course Jane Fonda lived in Santa Monica and we had a very, very interesting discussion prior to the talk and prior to what you will see in that retake of my discussion with him back in those days. So, no. He did not seem like a psychopath. He was at that time, the second largest landowner in the United States and he also funded the Wildlands Project, or I should say he was one of the funders of the Wildlands Project that will bring me into the discussion of what we are seeing now. We're seeing massive corridors being created throughout the United States. In fact, less than 50% of the land in the United States will eventually prohibit human access. And this is called the Wildlands Project. And this was mandated by the United Nations, a biodiversity treaty, forced transformation and relocations of all Americans and cities to comply with environmental policies and reduction of CO2 emissions. So, I will add this. We're being told that if we reduce our CO2 emissions, that will change the weather. How insane and mind controlled does the majority of the population have to be to believe that? How insane. But let me go on a little more of a discussion around the Wildlands Project because it's extremely important to understand. You can go to StopTheCrime.net and in the search type Wildlands Project. We have the map; we knew Dr. Kaufman who brought this map to the attention of the government in the 90s. And this was rolled forward since then. This has been a complete takeover of the United States. And the map will show you a reserve of corridors where there was little to no human use. You will see buffer zones. What you're noticing now most likely in your cities are these conservation easements being created by conservancy groups and literally buying large swaths of land to create corridors. They say that it's to expand parks and hiking, but certainly we see many parks being shut down because they claim there's not enough management capabilities with fewer people working these days. So, on the map too, it also shows Indian reservations and I just wanted to add, these are not reservations. These are prisons. The indigenous Native American Indians have had their land stolen of course; they've been put on reservations which are prisons. You can look more into that yourself. It's horrific and now we are being put in reservations called fifteen minute cities,

AKA death cities. So, the goal of the Wildlands Project is to set aside no less, they said then, but it's more now, 50% of the North American Continent. They call it Turtle Island as Wildlands. And here's what they're saying. They have core areas that are created for public lands and national forests. I want to remind you; the national forests and parks have SWAT teams. And I discovered a number of years ago that they were going to descend upon properties here in Northern California to move people off the properties because of excessive water use. Again, the illusion that we're running out of water. They've already cut water back in many of the farm areas now, at least 40%. Farmers are having to fallow much of their land in growing agriculture or fruit or nut trees. Certainly we had a few weeks ago, two dairies and another ranch shut down just north of San Francisco. Our food supply is being absolutely reduced. So, to go on a little bit more about the Wildlands Project, which is very important, they talk about this being deep ecology and how it can be easily summarized is all life, human and nonhuman have equal value. All life, human and non-human have equal value under the Wildlands Project. They talk about resource consumption above what is needed to supply vital human needs is immoral. Human populations must be reduced. AKA the Deagle Report. Certainly look that up, for those of you who aren't aware of the Deagle Report, well I would recommend that you look at that. It is a percentage of planned reduction of the world's population. And it certainly does do that. It's more of a de-pop than what that even shows us. They talk about how western civilization radically changed present economic technological and ideological structures and they go on to talk about how the Wildlands Project itself is supported by hundreds of NGOs and groups working towards a long term implementation that has taken over 100 years. So, what we are witnessing and I will just say this, the Wildlands Project has cost and received millions of dollars in support from wealthy and private corporations and foundations such as the Turner foundation. The Patagonian and W. Alton Jones Foundation and the Lyndhurst foundation, etc. So, what we're seeing is all boundaries being erased and we will be moved into human settlement zones. Now, I did a video a number of years ago called Kill Cities by Rothschilds and Rockefellers and there was a city council member in Washington DC named Trayon White. And during open city council sessions, he was discussing my video and the poor man just absolutely was set upon by the idea that it was called Kill Cities by Rothschilds and Rockefeller because it was said to have been antisemitic. There was nothing antisemitic about that title, everything that was discussed in that video came from the Rothschilds and Rockefeller websites, and that's what that meant. Certainly I was written up in the Washington Post as well and set up on by factual information that is evidence based, as I said in the beginning, everything for me is evidence-based. Otherwise I couldn't share it with you. I could not share anything you're hearing me discuss unless over the years I had enough evidence that I could prove the lethality of trying to exist here now because we are all on our own. We are completely on our own. So, I want to certainly encourage all of you to go look at some of the other recent videos I posted on StopTheCrime.net. I would really urge all of you to listen to AI Wicked Plans exposed. It is a lengthy presentation about everything that we have all been living in is on autopilot. And what do I mean by that? Well, from the Rand Corporation coming out of the Tavistock in England, there was a procedure that was put into place that many of you are witnessing now, if you scratch your heads, you don't understand it, I'm going to explain it. It's called the Delphi Technique D-E-L-P-H-I and this is how our country by and large was taken over. And other countries as well. It is a mind control technique of conducting meetings and watching many parents that are frustrating when they go to school board meetings, when they go to city council meetings, whatever agency meeting they go to, they're given a few minutes to talk and if that few minutes is aided by another paragraph, there's the threat that they will be arrested, they are certainly feeling that they are not heard by the council that they're speaking to because they're not heard. That is all part of the devious plan to allow us to think that we can say, and what we say will matter. It doesn't. It doesn't. Personally I have been to thousands of meetings on all different topics. I certainly went to Pacific Gas and Electric annual shareholders' meeting in San Francisco. When I first learned that Rothschild was running utilities worldwide because they introduced Rothschild as one of the attendees at the shareholders meeting. I couldn't see who he was, but down in the front row, there were maybe 500 people involved in this meeting and I simply went back to my office and typed in Pacific Gas and Electric and Rothschild and found it all. But now that's not available. Fortunately I have all of those documents in all the ways that things were discovered back then.

>>Jason: Are you saying there's a direct link to Rothschild or is it through subsidiary organizations?

>>Deborah: It's a combination of all of that. And certainly after the fires here in Northern California, we saw Rothschild agents attend many of the after fire meetings. It was diabolical. It was absolutely diabolical. So, Rothschild LLC and agencies control all of the utilities worldwide. This is why we have a worldwide rollout of the wireless electric meters. Also in play right now and certainly rolled out by and large are the wireless water meters so that all your usage of everything can be calibrated and can be allocated based on your social credit score. So, remotely, dependent upon your electric use, your energy can be turned off. In fact, I was noticing recently in the inserts in an electric bill that somebody gave me, it showed they don't have a smart meter, but they can still calibrate your usage and they're indicating in this bill that this house is 45% inefficient compared to the other neighboring houses. And honestly, I don't know how they've come to that other than to usher in the required retrofitting. And I've talked about this for so many years. This is another way in which they're going to literally make housing inaccessible because of the high cost, not only of insurance, but certainly the required retrofitting. What do I mean by required retrofitting? Well, in order to reduce CO2 emissions and reduce your carbon footprint, you have to implement many things in your homes. Now, I'm not saying as a builder that these are not good things to do. They are in many instances. But most people will not be able to afford it and so homes will be red tagged, in other words, not fit for occupancy. And here's some of the things that they'll require. Increased insulation in the walls and in the ceilings, again a good thing if you could afford to do it, new roofs, new windows, double paned windows. If you only have single paned, double paned, caulking, all those things are good, all electric appliances, so I have on my website a section called Kiss Your Gas Goodbye. I've had that up for years. I happened to have read uncountable amounts of climate action plans that have been adopted in every city worldwide. In fact, all of you listening right now, you can type in the name of your state or the largest city that you're near, type that in followed by Adopted Climate Action Plans For Sustainable Development Goals. And you will get a list. Usually they are over a hundred pages, they'll tell you the kind of diseases that you will get in your cities, they will tell you a variety of important pieces of information that you need to know because many people ask me over the years, where can I relocate to be safe? And I do have suggestions about that, but it's practical. I will first go over some of the climate change and health effects due to the intentional creation of weather through weapon systems. Here's what they've told us. And this is just only one page that I copied out of a sustainable development climate action document. And it talks about, there's two categories. One says the climate change effect and then the examples of human health risks. So, let's go through this so you'll understand what you can easily find in your cities so that you'll know the degree of attacks that you will face and this is absolutely what we are all seeing happening now. So, they talk about increases in extreme heat events. Well, I want to say this. They are microwaving us in the hot afternoons in the summer now. People will go out and they will say it seems hotter than the temperatures show us. It's because it is.

>>Jason: Is it the cell towers they're using to do this?

>>Deborah: It's a combination. It's HAARP, it's a combination. So, I'll go through this list. Increased and extreme heat events. And this is what that will cause. And they're causing it. Heat related illnesses and death. A worsening of chronic health conditions. Another effect is increased air pollution, absolutely. Our air is poisonous. Increased respiratory illnesses and seasonal allergies. Allergies are created, oaky? Let's go on. Floods, droughts, wildfires, storms and changes in weather patterns. They talk about the results of all of these things will be injury and death, respiratory illnesses, waterborne illnesses, foodborne illnesses, displacement, breast related disorders, mental health impacts and increased shift in infectious diseases which are largely biolab created. We have in the NASA War Document, many pages about the bioweaponization and the use of insects. Yes. It will cause illness and potentially death. Then they talk about higher food prices and food scarcity. They talk about increased hunger and decreased nutrition and then sea level rises, injury and death. And getting back to how things have been preprogrammed and this is most important for everyone to understand. We are on autopilot. All your agencies, local, state, federal agencies use the Delphi technique on us wherein they hire trained facilitators, they break you up into tables, you may have seen this. If you haven't, you need to start observing. I went to such a meeting just a week ago because they're in the process right now nationwide to revise your building plans. Your building codes. But the building codes are already approved by international standards. So, they're creating the illusion that locally you have the opportunity to go to a meeting and envision and reimagine what you would like your county to look like. So, I must say I can hardly stand going to these meetings and I haven't been to one for a while but I needed to see and remind myself again just how unbelievably, this is all void of ethics, morality and concern for human life. Let's just boil it down.

>>Jason: Who is running these meetings? Where are they getting these ideas from?

>>Deborah: So, this is all part of the Tavistock and the Rand Corporation and the Delphi. What it is, the climate action plans or sustainable development plans and how they promote preplanned agendas and as I said, they're using the Rand Corporation, the Delphi meeting techniques to create consensus. You've heard the word consensus. To determine outcomes.

Now, I wanted to be in one of these meetings, one of these advisory meetings one time, a water advisory meeting, and they told me that I would have to agree with the majority of whatever the consensus was and I don't usually agree with mind controlled majority thinking of not knowing what things and how things really function.

>>Jason: So, they're getting these ideas from somewhere else.

>>Deborah: Yes. They hire consultants and these are trained consultants in advancing a predetermined outcome when people think that they are being involved in determining the outcomes and they're not. Because the Delphi meetings are structured, controlled, and facilitated communication techniques used in all meetings today to manipulate the public and reach predetermined outcomes for the goals that they have already initiated. The goals of the corporations who are largely behind all of the preplanned goals and the Delphi meeting systems are used at climate action plan meetings or any meetings to create an illusion of public agreement to determine consensus. Science rather than real factual based science. So, there are many thousands of scientists that have weighed in on the false consensus to science leading to the CO2 emissions, you know that many scientists are saying we don't want to reduce CO2, that's oxygen, plants need oxygen to survive. So, they're reducing the oxygen supply which was going to be a problem for increased respiratory and life continue to be and they're also reducing our access to water. Two things that we need in order to survive.

>>Crow: So, Deborah, I've got to jump in here. We're coming in on the top of hour one. We're going to take a short break, about five minutes and come back for hour two. Is there anything you would like to tag on like repeating your URLs or anything like that, contact information if you wish?

>>Deborah: Yes. Again, this is Deborah Tavares with StopTheCrime.net, many videos that I would urge all of you to go to, all videos on StopTheCrime.net and start watching. Also, I own PrimaryWater.org, again, I repeat, we're not running out of water, water is renewable and we would have otherwise had clear unadulterated water. This is what the United States did when we blew up Libya and blew up the manmade river project that Muammar Gaddafi had provided primary water to over five million of Lebanese people. We blew that up in 2011. So, go to PrimaryWater.org. Understand you've been lied to about the source of water and how water is being delivered to your homes now. Also I run ToxicSky.org. I urge you to spend some time on that website as well and sad to say I didn't cover nearly as much as I would have liked to, so I'm going to cover more in the next hour.

>>Crow: Alright. So, that's bringing us to the top. She has so much information. I basically just let her run, trying not to interrupt too much in hour one. This brings us to the top of the first hour of Episode 616. We're going to try to get a few more questions in to hour two but there is just so much information here, it's quite dense to say the least. But with that, hour is free to everybody at Ccrow777radio.com. That is C-R-R-O-W-7-7-7-radio.com. Members know to log in for the full episode. Members get access to all the forums, comments, they can create all the top level topics, they can stream the two hour film called Shoot the Moon covering all my previous telescope work and also get access to the current solar work I'm doing. Exclusive access. With that, we're going to take a short break and I'd like to wish everybody a happy, healthy, and higher-minded new era. We'll be back shortly. There it is, Man. Cheers.

>>Crow: Alright, Man. Welcome back to Ccrow777 Radio. This is hour two of Episode 616. Jason Lindgren is back with me and Deborah Tavares. I keep saying it wrong, I know I'm saying it wrong and I apologize. But as we get in here, Jason and I are going to be asking a few questions. I'm going to open up with a few questions that I think most people are thinking about. But I want to mention this. Years and years ago when I first started being public on air and being interviewed, might have been my second or third show I did and this comment section blew up and asked, well why would people be doing any of this that you're talking about. And I said well why does anyone do anything? Because there's an end game and we're starting to see vast changes in this country and the speed at which it is happening is astonishing and the rate at which I see people fooled by people who want to portray themselves as saviors and do all these things that seem so great, it's all a wolf in sheep's clothing. If you fall for any of this, you're still in a deep sleep. You've got to realize that the system that we exist in provides a path for the people they want to be in positions. We do not live in a world where some miraculous person figures out how to undermine getting the key positions. We are so far past that. But with that, welcome back Jason, welcome back Deborah and I'm just going to open up with a question I know people are interested in. In the notes that Rose wrote based on our conversation with you, you said you had ideas about where people should relocate and where they should not relocate.

>>Deborah: Yes. This is only for people that believe that they need to relocate. There's some things that I would definitely recommend. First of all, read the climate action plans for the sustainable development plans in the area in which you are considering relocating in, so that you'll understand what you will face in that designated area because they will tell you. In the first hour I was going over consequences of heat and how that would cause death and illness. The airborne vectors, etc., every single climate action plan or unsustainable development plan, sustainable development plan will discuss that in all areas. The second thing I would recommend is do not live below, in other words, downgrade of a wastewater treatment plant because of the atmosphere. Our was swamped about two years ago and untreated human waste and certainly pharmaceuticals of undetermined concerns, spread all over a low lying wetland area, went down the Russian river which flows along and near Bohemian Grove out into the pacific ocean and there were well over 2,500 homes along the banks of the rivers that had washed in poisons and toxins from that wastewater treatment plant which oh, by the way, they want you to start drinking that water soon. They are telling you we are running out of water, we're not. The next thing you do not want to be below, and I mean below grade of a dam or reservoir, they are weapons that are a water delivery system that is failing. You will hear continuous discussions around how long ago the infrastructure was built and how it needs to be retrofitted as we're hearing here. In fact, it was just approved here that three dams north of Santa Rosa, California are going to be removed. Pacific Gas and Electric initiated one of the dams and wanted out of it for a number of years now because they claim it needs retrofitting.

What this really is, is cutting off the water supply to over 300,000 water users. So, you want to attempt to be on a well somewhere if you can. If you cannot, make friends with people in rural country areas so that you can secure some water. You will need to. That doesn't mean that all wells will pump because certainly the well drillers do not know about how to drill for primary water and I'll discuss that in a minute. But you don't want to live below a dam or a reservoir. Now it's very important, when you think of a lake, I have some friends leave the fire area here a few years ago because of the smoke and they went to Nashville and they sent me some beautiful photographs that they were swimming in a lake and I asked them, I said well, wait a minute, you need to verify, is that a lake or a reservoir? Because reservoirs are very toxic and poisonous and people should not swim in reservoirs. And it was a reservoir. So, when you hear a lake, usually it's going to be a reservoir. You don't want to live below grade of a reservoir. You do not want to live along the banks of a river or a creek of any size because they will flood those out. We saw that happening in North Carolina and other areas as well. They can flood that out, they can literally cause rivers to flow backwards. Now, I know that sounds insane because it is insane. And they can expand the flood area. That's what we've been seeing being done. You don't want to live in those areas. You do not want to live on the coast. Or coastal communities, particularly when they're low lying. I did a show called Coast Lines Under Attack where I went through a military document on how the military operations that are set up along the coast were planning to move inland. I also went to the UK in 2019 and spoke there about Wales and Scotland and other areas there, how they're relocating people off of the coast. We're seeing people in low lying areas in Florida being relocated. This is not sea level rise as many people now sadly believe it is. It is not. The documents will say well, the sea doesn't rise everywhere. Well, I don't know how you accomplish that... but it's far more nefarious than even that. So, you want to certainly live not inside a city growth boundary because you will at some point be forced into some of these high rise buildings, these are prisons. This is incarceration. It's going to be difficult to maintain livability in the rural country areas because the WLUI, the Wildlands Urban Interface, is being massively attacked again. They're burning people out. They're flooding people out. So, I can say to you, you can just watch what's happening in the aftermath of many of these weapon attacks. The fires, the floods, the tornadoes, the hurricanes... and you will need to decide for yourselves where you feel most secure. But I can say, being around family, friends or a community that you may have already built, I'm understanding of what we face around is critical. Because there are too many people sadly that are so mind controlled, they're not even capable of understanding what we face and I've covered a number of documents about mind control. I received some very interesting patents from someone I knew that deprogrammed illuminati family members and the patents were unbelievable, the level of mind control and remote neural networking that had the capabilities of decades, decades, decades ago wherein they can transition the electrical thinking in your brain into words and know what you're thinking before you actually say anything. Now, while that sounds horrific, that is what we face. And so, that is precrime. That is why we're hearing a lot about Thiel and Palantir in our country right now being part of the current administration. This is all precrime.

>>Crow: Before you launch in, Deborah, I want to remind you, you asked me to remind you to hit primary water in hour two which you did start in hour one, but you also wanted to be reminded about reducing wireless use, but go ahead.

>>Deborah: Yes. Let's start with reducing the wireless use first. It's going to be very important that you try or attempt to create a connectivity within a ten mile radius of where you live. Go to farmer's markets. Make friends with the farmers if you are not able to grow food for yourself. Make friends, offer to help. Farmers need help. Certainly know what you have within a 10 mile radius. Why do I say ten miles? We're going to be geo-sensed in our neighborhoods and our areas very soon where we will not be able to go outside of these frequencies senses. I certainly experienced the need to have passes. When we were traveling in Cuba, you couldn't go to another city unless you had a pass to travel. And the same thing in Ecuador as well, that's very common in most areas of the world. It's going to happen here in the United States and your ability to travel any distances are going to be very limited. You might want to think about having a bicycle and certainly making friends with people that you can support and they can support you as well again within a ten mile radius and reduce your use of frequency. Sadly it's going to mean that you're going to have to cut down your use on cell phones. Cell phones are weapons. They pulse these weapons and they're creating massive illness with that. I did a video years back. The Cooking of Humanity. Please listen to that. The Cooking of Humanity. My husband and I flew up to Portland and we interviewed Barry Trower, one of the world's leading experts on microwave warfare and our discussion was centered around smart meters, the wireless smart meters and cell phones. And you need to hear what he had to say about cell phones and I can only say if you want to survive, not only choosing a location where you're not downhill of toxic human waste and reservoirs, it's also cell phone towers. You don't want to be close to cell phone towers, sadly they're everywhere. I recommend that you type in, I believe you can type this in anywhere to find the cameras which are now deadly light frequencies that cause remote heart attacks and strokes. But I think you can type in Area Traffic Cameras. So, you can put in your area like I would put in for example Sonoma County California and then I would type in Area Traffic Cameras. You should be able to see a list of all of the cameras. They are also right now, and I'll get into water in just one second. But I wanted to talk about Sun surveillance systems that are being deployed worldwide right now. These systems, and if you type in Sun surveillance, in fact, everyone, write this down. You need to see this for yourself. Go onto YouTube. Type in Green Valley Road Flood. Green Valley Road Flood and then click on live stream. You are going to see a Sun surveillance system in real time all the time 24/7, 365. Now, why am I alarmed about this? This is going to have precrime, it's all AI, they claim that it goes to the police, fire and sheriff's department and you can go online and watch people coming and going from their homes. So, when you leave your home and you can go online, you can see when someone's not home. And this is what is being deployed throughout the entire country and in fact global. And they have even mobile versions of these Sun surveillance systems and they're again, they're worldwide. Again operated by AI. These are kits and they can have additional attachments to them so they will have and can have speakers on them to talk.. they will have the light systems that literally because we're energy, light's energy, it's all energy and again, they can pulse these light frequencies and cause your demise. They will be geo-sensing all of the information will go directly to your local law enforcement. If you need law enforcement because they're transitioning to drones. We're in the fifth generation warfare now. Where the illusion of needing bombs and tanks and soldiers is just really to keep people in the old style. Sadly the technologies are far beyond that. It is all now being weapon systems.

>>Crow: Alright, Deborah, I've got my eye on the clock and I want to remind you, you did want to hit primary water and you did want to hit the Trevor Coppola thing, so go ahead.

>>Deborah: Yes. Let's get into primary water. This is critical to understand that our water does not come from rain and snowmelt. That is a toxic atmospheric level of water, that is called the secondary water cycle. The primary cycle comes from down below and this is going to be a little bit technical but I hope that you will listen, understand and go to PrimaryWater.org. Understand about the water. It involves drilling for the water. Wells for the water. Our entire water delivery system in the United States was set up to collect rainwater, toxic poisonings from all of the overhead aerosolized death dumps, chemtrails, all of the water washes over the land that have toxic fertilizers. And PFAS. P-F-A-S. That is sludge collected from wastewater treatment plants and used on our farmlands. All the farmlands in the United States are poisonous. So, greenhouses are good, that's another thing that people can consider. You can do hoop houses. You can grow some seeds and try to keep them out from as much as the aerosolized spraying programs as possible. There's no way to avoid it all, just do the best you can. But primary water is called the hydraulic water system driven by the Earth's energy and primary water is created deep within the Earth from the synthesis of hydrogen and oxygen. In other words, when hydrogen and oxygen merge, it turns into vapor. And it comes up to the surface, you'll see it either in hot or cold springs. You'll see it in geysers, and oases. You'll see it at the tops of the mountains where it doesn't rain or snow often such as the Hawaiian Islands where you'll see these gorgeous cascading waterfalls forever. And no one stops to think about where is this water coming from? Well, we are the water planet and we could get and can get to primary water. In fact, areas in Poland and other areas that have been getting to primary water have much higher IQs than all of the people who are not drinking this water. We're drinking poisons. We're drinking arsenics, we're drinking fluorides, we're drinking again, all of the chemtrails and poisoning of the waters. So, the important thing is to understand you need to go down for water and don't go up for water. It's poisonous.

>>Crow: Deborah, how deep is, you mentioned earlier for a well driller to know how to drill for primary. Is it deeper? What's the deal?

>>Deborah: Yeah, no I will answer that question. That's a good question. Thank you for asking that. Well drillers are not taught about primary water so they're not drilling for it. They're drilling into upper aquifers that are just water banking for toxic rainwater and still water. Well drillers need to get into the geological rock areas which is everywhere. You can get to primary water on every piece of property everywhere. They just don't know how to drill. And sadly, many people knew Paul Power, he was a primary water driller here in Ojai, California just north of Los Angeles, and a group, a team. And this leads me back to the Chinatown movie. Go to our website, PrimaryWater.org. Please consider printing new water for a thirsty world by Michael Salazar. This book was released in 1961. The Water Barons tried to burn them all up, confiscate them and burn them all up. Now, you don't need to drill deep. You can often hit primary water, even coming up from a spring, then you can create water dispersal from springs. Generally, Paul said always plan on about 250 feet in depth.

>>Crow: How do you know the difference?

>>Deborah: You'll know when you hit it. We've been on many primary water drills. In fact, maybe you're going to want me to explain that further. They murdered Paul about two years ago. He drilled somewhere between eight and a thousand wells, many of which were in California. He did nondisclosure agreements to many wells he drilled in Australia. There are many, many wells in Kenya and Africa. He saved many lives because of the horrible conditions of water in Africa and Muammar Gaddafi again created what was called the great manmade river project. You can watch him; I think people could see it on YouTube where they were building the great manmade river project. And it just simply meant installing underground plumbing, so-to-speak, not that deep in the desert in Northern Africa. He was creating a growing area that never had enough water in the past. They were growing fruit trees and nuts and gardens. He was planning to back the Dinar with gold and get out from under the arm of the bankers and literally green up Africa. They blew up this amazing manmade river project.

>>Crow: Then flooded it with salt water I'm told.

>>Deborah: No, that's not what I understand. Maybe parts of it, I don't know. But what I know is that they blew it up and I talked to Paul about that, about what could be done to restore that and he said, well, they would need the well drilling equipment to reestablish much of that. But a whistleblower contacted us and told us that the military blew up all the well drilling equipment that Muammar Gaddafi had purchased from the UK. So, they just blew them all up and threw them into a humanitarian crisis because many villagers who were receiving their water through the method that Gaddafi had provided to them, suddenly had no water. So, that is the enormity of the lie about the truth of water and it is life or death. They don't want you to know about it. So, spread the truth whether you could ever get to it or not, just understand we are the water planet. In fact, there are even islands where you can swim out and with a catchment situation, you can catch some of the water that comes out under the ocean. I mean, it is... we're the water planet. We are growing with water on the surface. We're not diminishing. And rather, they would rather have us use desalination which is insane. They want us to use the toxic water in all methods that they can present it to us to further strip and asset strip all of us. We don't need to desalinate water. That is a way in which to literally create more sludge. Because what do you do with all that sludge from the desalination. It's toxic sludge.

>>Crow: Alright, Deborah, I'm watching the clock. We're going to need to keep moving and I'm reminding you about Trevor Coppola.

>>Deborah: Yeah, I just want to have everyone know I did a video a number of years back with Trevor Coppola, he is a relative of the Francis Ford Coppola family. And in that video I discuss with Trevor the NASA War Document and the Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars document. I'm going to just go over a couple of important aspects of the NASA War Document, but I want to certainly include a greater discussion which all of you can get to by going to my video Wicked AI. Go on to StopTheCrime.net where we literally read through the secret illuminati covenant and everyone must hear this covenant. They will understand the goals. Completely and thoroughly and the depth of our deception. But let me just read some of that contained in the NASA documents which we discovered some years ago. They talked about how they would exploit our media and that they would sink carriers and swarm attacks and capture and torture people in living color, on prime time. What are we seeing worldwide on prime time that there would be terror attacks within the continental United States using binary, biologicals, they would attack our critical infrastructure and they would take us down. They talk about with radio frequencies against our brains with an EMP which is an electromagnetic pulse as a possibility. It would create seriously psychological warfare and collateral damage. All of that is being done to every single one of us. They talk about on page nine; humans have taken over and vastly shortened evolution and they will now be directing evolution. This is now what we're hearing about transitioning humans into cyborgs or robots and eliminating all flesh and blood as it is, including animals. They talk about on page 14 the key future technologies are going to be automatic, robotic, everything and genetic engineering before birth, of course there won't be live, they call it wild births, there won't be wild sex or wild birth. Everything will be controlled. On page 66 they told us increasingly critical are human limitation and downsides. Humans are too large, too heavy, we're too tender, too soft, too slow physically and mentally and we require huge cost and we've rapidly been decreasing to negative value. We can see that. That's all emerging around us. On 67 they talk about robotics in the large, that they save lives and enhance affordability and they redefine risks, threats to the environment and enhance effectiveness. This is the transition that we're massively already in. They talk about also the use of IT, biologicals and nano. And we're hearing a lot about nanobots. All of this is true. We all have Morgellons. Morgellons is the foundational aerosolized in food that was introduced into our bodies a long, long time ago. I went to a Clifford Carnicom talk and he was the one that certainly discovered Morgellons and we all have it. All your pets. Everything that's porous has Morgellons. M-O-R-G-E-L-L-O-N-S but let me continue. They talk about how everything will be IT and nano. They said in this document that they would use the brain of a sea lamprey inserted and connected to the body of a robotic fish. And that was their initial cyborg and they created what they called a Chew-Chew flesh plant eating robot that hunts and bio-digests natural foods, lives off the land. And they said that the inventor of the Chew-Chew robot was Stuart Wilkinson and he was very, very concerned about the dangers of the robots eating humans. This is on page 35 of the NASA War Document. You can look at it on StopTheCrime.net. It's been out for many, many years. Many people have utilized parts of this document in discussing what we're in and what we say. They talk about on page 45, microdust weapons, then they say it's a mechanical analog to biomechanize dust which is distributed as an aerosol and inhaled into our lungs and that the dust mechanically bores into our lung tissue and executes various pathological missions. And this is a new class of weapons and it is legal. On page 45 they tell us about beam weapons. This will come increasingly prevalent. Well, we are in a fifth generation warfare where everything is lasers, microwaves, beams, cell phone towers, your phones that you carry around, all of it are weapons. They talk about the effects of low frequencies and microwaves. I have a document on the source document page at StopTheCrime.net from the army, from Walter Reed, and you can pull that, hunt for it and find it, but here's some of the things they talk about that the low frequencies will cause seizures, gross alterations in our brain function and lead to death and then they also talk about the various weapons that are legal.

Microwave and RF systems are legal. Chemical weapon systems are legal. Psychological effects, conducting effects on our sensory organs are all legal. In other words, affecting our smell, our thinking, our vision. They go on and on and psy-war massive psy-war. We're in massive acoustic weapon systems as well, many of you may have heard about the Havana Syndrome that was done in Cuba, it's not a syndrome, it was a weapon. It was an acoustic weapon used on the American Embassy causing irreversible brain damage and if you go to StopTheCrime.net on my video channel, I did a breakdown when I attended an agricultural meeting right after COVID was lifted and we were able to go to a live meeting. I went to the meeting and they were talking about evacuation routes and I was very interested because certainly I didn't want to end up like what I saw in Paradise and other areas where people just could not get out and they burned alive in their vehicles where they went off ravines and died that way. In many ways because of chokeholds on evacuation routes and there was a large map that was being shown of our entire county, Sonoma County and I wanted to get my evacuation zone because the idea is when there's a weapons event, they'll say when there's a natural event. It's not natural. They'll cite your evacuation area and then you're to evacuate accordingly and that would prevent the clogging of roads. That made sense. I thought that was a good idea. I tried to get that map, I tried to pay for it, I asked them to send it to a printer so I could get a copy because lots of my friends didn't attend this meeting. In fact, it was very unattended. Finally, I just went to find those maps, the evacuation route and the evacuation areas are all military zones. I found that they would use acoustic weapons to inject suggestions to evacuate. Because when you evacuate your areas, they generally won't let you return. And what they were saying is that you would have to have permits to return to your homes. They would allow, if you were selling a commodity, if you are selling vegetables and so forth, you could get in sooner, but if you just had a residence, you would be detained. Because the reason you're detained and not allowed back in is that the criminals have to literally remove all of the crime scene. And they don't want you to notice that white fencing and blue houses are still standing. They don't want you to see white and blue cars still available. They want to remove all the evidence. I have seen photographs with beam weapons hitting the sides of buildings and holes in the sides of buildings. I have witnessed what happens when the guard rails on roads that are aluminum guard rails that are lagged onto in wood posts and how the microwaves heat up all of the aluminum and metal and the wood posts burn. I have many pictures after the criminal crime scene reviews... we've gone when we went up to, for example, to Paradise after that fire. Now, in the fire in Santa Monica and I will send this to you, we actually saw these large wooden posts where a cable went through it. The cable was microwaved and it was causing these posts to burn. We never saw it in action. I want to say this as one of the last things and I don't know how else to make this sound nice. It's not. As a builder we now see and recognize that all the conventional building materials that we use worldwide, we're talking about nails, straps, all of the hardware that is used in construction and connecting beams and joints and other building materials together can and will become microwaveable and that will cause your homes to burn down. We also now know with the heavy metals in our body, we all have heavy metals. It's being suggested that we detox. But that creates high human spontaneous combustibility. In other words, with the amount of combustible metals in our bodies, in our bodies... we can be hit and dustified. And that now has been happening. I wish I could leave this on a better note but where we are... and so where does that leave you? It certainly in my opinion leaves a line in the sand to decide who you are. Doing the best next right thing every single day. Living in right conduct every single day. Despite the anger that many may start feeling besides the betrayal that many of you may feel to attempt always live in right conduct and there's just too much inertia to stop this. This is what was said to my husband and I when we attended an IEEE meeting in San Jose a number of years ago. The acronym IEEE. We attended this meeting and there were very pull out meetings and we went to one that was headed by one of the general electric higher ups and he was talking about how every single thing on the face of this planet would be tracked and monitored and inventoried. Well, that was heavy to think about. More than heavy. I personally at that time years back couldn't even wrap my brain around what that meant. Every single thing would be tracked, monitored from initial manufacturing to end of use or from birth to death would be monitored? So, I went up to him after his talk and I was stunned but didn't wrap my head around what he actually fully meant and I was asking him about geoengineering, the control of the weather. And I said, what do we do about that? He says, everything is too much inertia. And I could not believe that. I could not accept that we couldn't stop this. I couldn't not. That was a number of years ago. And all I can say is now, with what we are all seeing where people are now starting to see the sad reality for all of us is that these vaccinations have now created MAC contact. You can go in the cemeteries where they buried soldiers and not just recent vaccinated soldiers, but you can pick up their MAC through what they have in their bodies and I'm posting this on StopTheCrime.net. I know many of you heard this happening during the COVID-19 agenda to kill us and to literally track and monitor us. But we face bigger things than just not being able to get water, food and air. We are being transitioned by intentionality. By something so unimaginably evil. And as I said earlier, this far exceeds any thought of morality, ethics or concern for life. There is no concern.

>>Crow: Okay, Deborah, I've got to jump in here, we're at 40 minutes and there's still quite a number of things in these notes. Is there anything in particular that you'd like to shift to while we still got time?

>>Deborah: Well, I would like to urge everybody to go to StopTheCrime.net and type in Aquarius on the search, that's A-Q-U-A-R-I-U-S and understand this was a whistleblower document we received a while ago, and it discusses the planned chemical sedation of the populations through radio microwave frequencies for mass mind control. And I think everybody needs to understand this, many won't because there's sadly already mind-controlled and literally they talk about the electromagnetic radio waves and microwave pulse mind warfare and they talked about the advantages of that type of warfare and the desired subject or populations have no knowledge of the procedures being implemented. They also talked about mind control, the use of chemical and poly-pharmaceutical saturation has been achieved. Already achieved. This was many decades ago that this has been achieved. For the purpose of in mind and achieved by deliberate over introduction, through exposure or consumption on behalf of the population base in everyday usage of public water supplies, airborne pollutants and chemical agents in a wide variety of foods. So, when you look at this document, you find also that they talk about lone wolves and we're seeing lots of individual attacks and many of these are targets. Very much like a Manchurian Candidate where they are mind controlled and then they become triggered and they'll do the bidding of whomever orchestrates and controls their mind and they can erase memories and they do and they can create false memories and they do. Now we also know that we can even create the voice of a person. So, do you think you're talking to someone and you're not. I can only say that we're beyond most people's ability to understand, because we have all been Delphi'd. We have been kept flaccid and we have been kept working for the achievement of the goals that we are now seeing from the world that we're in and this has all been preplanned, this has all been programmed, this is creating a massive, massive slave system and I can only just say this has been a long time in the making, this has been the goal over hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of years. So, I can certainly share more. I'd like to. Maybe I come back with you and discuss things further at a later date.

>>Crow: We still have over fifteen minutes still, Deborah.

>>Deborah: Okay, well then, what would you like to ask me? I know that you still have some questions.

>>Crow: Well, one thing that comes to mind, I mean, I know you've been so many places and been in so many meetings, on what degree have you seen people in positions of power catch onto what's going on and decide they want nothing to do with it?

>>Deborah: I really haven't personally. I know people have a few but I know that that sadly is something that people are either paid to play, certainly can be blackmailed. I know that there's much abuse around children and that can be a set up to cause people to do things that they wouldn't want to have discovered.

>>Crow: Good point.

>>Deborah: Living here, near Bohemian Grove where they have had child sacrifices and they do bring in children for sexual activities and they do make snuff films there. One can only imagine and I won't, I won't depict that. A number of years ago I received some documents from some friends of mine in Europe and they said they really don't know what to do with this. No one should have to read this. And what it was, was about adrenochrome. The drinking of blood. And the documents that I received were the kidnappings of young children from Canada, the United States, and Costa Rica. Then they were housed in closed off military bases in the United States with martial. And these children, had lists of the children, I've done many radio shows, if you go back you could observe those, adrenochrome would be in some of those where I went through the pages of this document. I really did start suffering from PTSD when I was reading these children's names and their ages and was looking at the quality of blood that they were able to accomplish by massive, massive torture. In order to oxygenate the blood, to have it bring in a higher value for the powerful that drink blood as elixir, the level of trauma was oftentimes so great that the children would die. Then they would also have expiration dates of the children because of course they didn't allow them to live. And it talked about the different bases where this was being done, names of the bases, the locations, it even talked about the increased income that they would give some of the officers that conducted this and then it would get into how it would classify the sales of the adrenochrome. As I best recall it was rated B, B-, B+, A, A-

, A+ and again that would depend on the oxygenation of the blood which represented horrendous torture for these children. The children average between the ages of six and eight and of course they were murdered. At the end it showed a map, a Google Earth map of one of the burial sites of the children and the people were chastised as not doing a good enough job in the burial site, they had to get back out there and do a better job. But at the end it talked about where they were selling this blood. This adrenochrome and it was a location in New York and it had the address and I was honestly so traumatized going over the details of this that I never researched the location of this address in New York until somebody mentioned it in the comments and then I realized where it was.

>>Crow: Okay. I don't want you to say where it was on the air. But I do want to make a comment. We have a living bellwether with regard to what you're talking about. A rap, a so-called rap mogul has been jailed supposedly to do with this. And so, whatever happens with this supposed case is a real indicator. And what I've said for a long time is it seems to be so pervasive.

>>Deborah: Oh, it is.

>>Crow: That I will be surprised. I will be absolutely dumbfounded if we see any kind of a result that you would expect to see but by the same token, if we did see some result that seemed sane, that would be a big tell, wouldn't it?

>>Deborah: We won't. Sadly the evil is so pervasive down to the core. The criminality is across all levels of society. Our court system is corrupt. It is criminal. The cities are run under criminal documents. Sustainable development documents that are unsustainable to support life. When you have all of these systems in play, when you have the fact that we are being sprayed overhead with chemicals, poisons and toxins that are making us sick and the fog, think of every condition outside from the rain to the fog to the chemtrails as poisonous dumps on us. I remember Rosalind Peterson who spoke to the United Nations. She was a good friend of ours and she went to the United Nations. You can look it up. Rosalyn Peterson in the United Nations. She was pleading with the United Nations years back. I think it was 2005. To please stop the altering of the weather because it was massively poisoning and damaging the crops. She was a USA crop loss claims adjuster and she was watching crops die and she went to the lab to try to figure out what was happening and then came to realize it was the aerosol spraying that she had never known existed. Now many of you right now probably don't know it's real either. I just took some photographs last night from some of the interviews going on right now in North Carolina and I am seeing chemtrails in the sky above and in North Carolina now. They likely have no idea that was set upon them. But then when you think about the fact that if we were to all understand that this is a terrorist attack on all of us, in every way, not only dismembering children and stealing people for body parts and what they do with certain religious groups in China, they haul them off and they use them as body parts. They do that in our local hospitals in the United States. Organ harvesting is a big business. So is blood drinking. So is child prostituting and child... just all the horrific, the whole sex system of it all.

>>Crow: I want to ask you another thing and bring this up. It's astonishing to learn how many people go missing in national parks. I mean, it's mind numbing. The number of people that go missing in national parks and what's more is there only seems to be over a time, maybe one main guy who seems to be looking at it. But he's told that they don't keep track of the numbers of people that go missing. Basically what is being told, it's all pretty unbelievable. But are you familiar with the number of human beings that go missing in national parks?

>>Deborah: Absolutely I am. Absolutely I am. And there's much more to talk about that, which I won't at this moment because there are certain hybrids and so forth that exist and national parks as well. The entire system that we're in is created, we're in a massive illusion. We live in an illusion and many people have been so programmed in school. And for all the parents who are sending their parents to school now, shame on you. Your children are learning climate change and it's too many people using too much stuff and we only have a few years left before the earth's resources are used up. And they're pitting the young against the older now. It's a big design, part of the big design is pitting people against people. They're pitting people against country people on every level that is occurring but it is so outrageously inhuman on all levels. Inhuman. And when I look at the patents for mind control and the ability of what has already been done with 5G and all of the illnesses that we're now contracting, we've all been made ill so that we are easier to take down. Then that's what's happened. That's what's happened. I even found out that they built this huge business on weight loss and they were doing studies in the early seventies with primates using different levels of frequencies on primates and causing them to gain 10%. Well, look at what they've turned into now as increased obesity. In part, many parts though, the use of frequencies as well. But look at the food. Now, I reported years ago about Senomyx. S-E-N-O-M-Y-X. I didn't know back then, but when I was covering the deployment of smart meters that in La Jolla, California there was a company that was using fetal material and putting it in the food supply as a taste enhancer. We were already cannibalizing. Cannibalizing rewires our brains and then it was Senomyx in the food supply. It was during the Obama Administration, a rights for life group fought against it, they didn't think that aborted fetal tissue should be used in the food supply. They lost. They lost that lawsuit. It was said to be a normal business. And you can look that up. I'll never forget when I was told that. I thought the person that was telling me this should be put in a straightjacket and hauled immediately to the nearest insane asylum and then I researched and found it was true. So, I can tell you the inertia behind all of this has been set upon us decades and decades ago and understand the level now of the use of weather weapons is slaughtering us. Slaughtering us. Smoke is a weapon. The landslides are a weapon. In fact, we shouldn't be thinking of the seasons that we've been taught. Fall, winter, spring and summer. We should be looking at fire season, landslide season, microwave and laser attack season. Those are our seasons now. We have been told by the head of the fire agencies the fires are all year round. And we're also being told right now that Marin in Northern California, just over the Golden Gate Bridge headed north, M-A-R-I-N, is set for a fire because it's been over fifty years, the roads are narrow, vegetation is dense. In fact, in Mill Valley, I was just reading that they've conducted one of the largest evacuation drills, a fire drill if you will of a large portion of the city, just as a drill. An evacuation drill. Because we're going to be having to run for our lives. We are climate refugees. They're telling us to keep a backpack packed in all cars at all times so we can run, evacuate with your important documents. I am sorry, many people's lives do not pack up in a backpack. And I can also say to you that there are ways in which to harden your homes so that you're less easy to be burned. And I can tell you that there are a number of retired fire captains that we know that know that these are all weather weapons and in the fires that they fought there are ways in which people can harden up your homes, you need to. Certainly, you need to have, this is just a few quick ideas because we're coming out of time, but Rain Birds on your roofs, you have to have a water supply and turn on rainbirds, certainly clog up your downspouts and create a trough of water in your gutters. You have to remove any fabric from outside your house, umbrellas, front door, mats, all that kind of thing. Have lots of topside water available, if that means you get water tanks and you get submersible pumps and hoses, get that. We're on our own. We are on our own. And if you want to be homeless in a time now when you can't get insurance or mortgages and then you'll move into these slaughter cities where we can't survive because of the increased levels of frequencies, try to stay in property as best you can. And I want to say this too, and this is extremely important. On my website I have a video posted. It's called How To Make Billions on Fires and Floods. And go to it. It's a recent post. It's called Catastrophic Bombs. Do you know that they are betting on the level of disaster that is caused? They make money. They have lots of money laundering. They have trillions of dollars floating around that they have to invest and they're investing it in the level of disasters. And what that means is that they're buying... when you watch the fires in Los Angeles, we are seeing new trucks. New equipment. We're seeing equipment that is recently purchased. This is called disaster capitalism in advance of the disaster. Now, when you watch that video, you're going to hear them say many people that will not leave a disaster area, now there are certainly floods and things you have to leave. But many that harden up in certain specific attacks and don't leave, they say that they are stubborn. That they are reducing the amount of money they make on the money they can make in a disaster. So, please go to StopTheCrime.net. Please watch that video and understand in the course of our destruction with the use of weapons, they're making millions and millions of dollars off of these disasters and you can see some of the ways in which in this video, it's specifically discusses and shows a fire in Santa Cruz. Santa Cruz is in central California, it's a beautiful ocean town and this is a large swath of land in Santa Cruz that fires were descending upon and you'll see how they survived and how they fought these fires off and how they were ridiculed for being stubborn and not leaving so that people that invest in the need to clean money are able to make more money off of their demise. It's quite astounding. It's beyond astounding. And it's legal.

>>Crow: Alright, Deborah, I've got to jump in here, we're just about there. It's overwhelming and for everyone listening, we touched on, I don't know, a third of the notes maybe. There's so much here. Jason, is there anything you'd like to say before we begin to wrap up?

>>Jason: To wrap things up, can you tell us who is behind all of the human trafficking going on, not just the children trafficking but all of the human trafficking? Do you know anything about the power structure that might exist to do these terrible things?

>>Deborah: Well, I think it's so vast it's one of the world's most profitable businesses. I would say obviously there are people that, as I've mentioned so often during this discussion that are void of ethics, morality or concern for human life. Who do we know? Well, we see many, many abuses in religious groups that get found out, caught... it goes across the board. People make money.

>>Crow: And they're still in business.

>>Deborah: And they are. And people make money on kidnapping children. This is common. It's called the CIA Finders where they literally drive through the streets and pick up our children out of parks. They prefer of course, well I shouldn't say this but I know that children that are in broken homes are really desired because usually, and parents who sell their children into the trade as well. Women will have babies and sell the babies. So, it comes from many levels. I have posted on my website... gosh... a while ago, something evil was the name of it and it was, it was an inside camera man that got into a trafficking group and was filming these children that were being sexualized and then killed. Because different people like different levels of gratification. So, an answer to your question, it's a massive, massive business.

>>Crow: It seems to be universal and it seems to have been going on for a very long time.

>>Deborah: Absolutely it has. It's horrific. And what many people have been saying over the past number of years is to not travel alone anymore. To always travel with someone. We have to watch out for ourselves now. We have to check in now. More. And know where we are and maybe let someone we know where we're headed and it's just an added safety because sadly with all of the snuff abilities on our roads now with the lights, we're all in danger. And look at the high incidents of traffic accidents because people are so irate. We're living in a different world from all of the technologies that have been set up upon us and people don't understand. So, the bottom line is reduce your wireless use as best you can. If you're in an area where you have the smart meter opt out, call your utility company, get that doggone thing off your home. If you can. I know we fought long and hard for the opt out... do you hear me?

>>Crow: Yeah, it just changed a bit. The tone of your voice.

>>Deborah: Yeah, my power just went out. FYI.

>>Crow: We've got you.

>>Deborah: But I'm on a landline. Okay? [laughter] In any event, that seems to always continue to work. Although, AT&T is now trying to eliminate all land lines. We know that during the fires when the cell phone towers were burning up, people had no use of their cell phones. So, I would recommend that everybody keep their landlines. I'm glad this happened to me right now so I could add that into the discussion. Landlines seem to be more reliable. But again, they're trying to eliminate those. So, yeah. I don't know what everyone will deduce from all this information, but don't be afraid. That's what I can say. Do not be afraid. Most likely people will be afraid for a time as they're digesting their reality, but get over it. This is where we are. So, think about how you can help people, your loved ones. Think about what you can do to create a group of connectivity, if that's even possible. But certainly stay in groups where these conversations can easily be discussed. Don't try to talk to somebody over the dinner table and their eyes are closing, their lids are closing, and they don't believe you. And at this point in time with as obvious as so many of these things happening to us are, there will be people that we cannot help as much as we will want to. And I have been told so often, so often and it's been hard to even hear it. But there will be many people dying all around us on this battlefield called Earth and we're just going to have to do the best we can every single day. Always have that line in the sand of what we won't cross.

>>Crow: Alright, I'm going to jump in here, Deborah, we've got to wrap up and I know this has been so informationally dense. I mean, it almost feels like getting hit between the eyes with a baseball bat. Can you please tell folks one more time your web addresses or if you want to give out contact, whatever you'd like to offer out, please do so one last time.

>>Deborah: Well, I would ask everybody to please share my websites and the content on these websites. It represents decades and decades of hard work and the trauma that went into gathering all this information. I had many years to be where I am now to tell you what you're hearing me say now, that as you said sounds like you've been hit with a baseball bat. So, again, the websites are StopTheCrime.net and PrimaryWater.org and ToxicSky.org. Now, I have found that my targeting is so severe sometimes with my websites that people will type in StopTheCrime.net and they'll get Viagra ads. So, I have been able, people have told me as they get into ToxicSky.org at the top it will allow you to get into all websites, you can go in through that. Or through primary water.org. I know that I dumped a lot. But I don't feel we have a lot of time. And what I hope is that we have some really smart MacGyver types that will hear some of this and actually believe it and take some action. Figure out how we can survive a little longer. Harden up so that we can survive a little longer. Running off in the woods and trying to hide in the woods with all of the capabilities to find heat signatures even if you're underground? We can't hide, we can't run away. We can't throw a backpack on and run up a river and crawl under some trees. I know that many people in Ukraine are hiding out in the woods. I have a very dear friend whose family was in Kiev. Her entire family. Her mother, her son, her brother, cousins, etc., and many people are hiding in the woods. Many people here are thinking if they go into the woods, they're going to be safe. No. This is hunting season. We're being hunted. We are being hunted. And that's why it's important to stay together with families, understand, and most importantly, stay with groups that you can sit down at the table. I have a few people that I can get together with and sit at a table and discuss everything you heard me talk about in this disclosure today. Not too many are able to understand the degree of what we face. But I think the sooner that we can understand the enslavement system and the Delphi and the programming that has occurred, and please, go to that other video I told you about because we read the illuminati covenant there. Just as I've gone over the NASA War Document over the years and the Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars was the first chapter in Behold A Pale Horse, the book. And also there's another important, and I know you told me to wrap it up and just give websites so maybe I should stop right now but I will say one more thing and maybe we can come back and talk about it and leave it with this. The Noahide Laws. It's not about Noah at all.

It's about what the United States, in 1988 when we were signed onto the genocide treaty and we can talk about that in another show.

>>Crow: Alright. Thank you so much Deborah, I'm going to wrap up with a couple ideas. Years ago I remember the first time that I saw an advertisement on TV for apartments.com and it felt like the devil took his finger and touched my soul. It was a dark feeling. I knew from the very second what was going on. What this meant. It had evil all over it and I could detect it down to the tip of my toes. What's going on is serious. What's going on has been going on for, I mean, for those who have caught our last episode, minimally since the early 1700s, before that even. Because those people are referencing hundreds of years of effort. If we give up, then we've already lost. And that's really not an option. But one of the things I consider is the amount of time that I spend here in this lifetime is a drop in the bucket. It really is. And one of the things that I noticed and I've put it in a few blogs recently, that from my point of view, one of the main ways so much of this has happened is because we lost our morality and our sense of faith. Because people and communities and cultures with such things do not accept what is unacceptable. To be fair, much of what's gone on here was done by the man behind the curtain, but to be equally fair, we are all pretty much aware, there is a man behind the curtain at this point. And if you don't know that then you're behind the eight ball so far... I don't know what your chances might be depending on where things go. But the other thing is when Deborah started talking about Gaddafi, I had been told things about this with people who had direct knowledge and I sat here and nod my head as she spoke. Here's the thing. There's not just one group. There are powerful groups, more than one and they are at odds at times. And this can work in our favor. An act of God could work in our favor. Lord knows how many things could work in our favor. But the main point I want to make is nothing is done until it's done. And even after it's done all created things will see their end and as we wake up here, we simply have to do what we know to be true, correct, and right. And if we get scared and we don't get over it and we go hide, then we basically become Mr. Smith. An agent of the system. Not helping what we should be helping and allowing what we shouldn't be helping. Years and years ago people were saying, Crow, what are you talking about, this is ridiculous, this is beyond the pale, why would anyone do it? And I said back then what I'll tell you now. Because there's an end game. And if we sit here and allow the end game, then we're pretty much going to get what we deserve. But with that, I know this has been dense, I know it has been like a baseball bat between the eyes, but it is what it is and we can't sugarcoat this all the time forever. With that, I want to wish everybody everywhere a happy, healthy, and higher-minded new era. This has been hour two of Episode 616 with Jason Lindgren and Deborah Tavares. Cheers.

:: Belief is the enemy of knowing ::

